TOM WHEELER, GAMESPY AWARD WINNER, PC MAGAZINE "It is a pleasure to be able to recommend it to anyone who wants a real RPG adventure that makes the most of the system. What's more, it has a huge world to explore, a deep story, and beautifully crafted game worlds that are true to their setting." TRAGEDY'S MASTER: "The gameplay is fantastic and the graphical side is also very satisfying to look at, also. What truly impresses with the new title is the intricacy of the setting and the number of things to do in it. Both the world and the dungeon crawling RPG elements are executed really well." PC MAGAZINE "The graphics are what you'd expect, featuring decently rendered, detailed environments. Story and dialogue are expressed in English, though, and the game engine is flexible enough that all the settings and equipment can be customized." PC GAMER "What I like about it is that it only takes 5-10 hours to get the hang of. All of the parts of the game that you might not like at first seem to have a purpose, and have been there for a reason." PSP MAGAZINE "As a fantasy RPG it's not to be missed. It's full of dramatic situations, something for everybody." PSX MAGAZINE "A lot of your choices in the game are important to the overall story and atmosphere. The great thing about the game is that these choices are not random, and the choices and consequences have a lasting impact." PSX EURO "The multiple choices and quests gives it a high replay value, and the world is so large that you can quite quickly do everything there is to do. The graphics and sound are very well done, and the whole package is highly enjoyable." RPG MAGAZINE "The story and characters are great. The RPG elements are very well-done. The game itself, being fantasy, might not appeal to all, however, but for the rest of us, it's a great RPG." PS2 MAGAZINE "It's not a bad game for a flash game, but if I were given bff6bb2d33

(CNN) -- The son of a pastor in Ohio didn't realize he had a girlfriend until he saw photos on his father's Facebook page. Timothy Williams, 14, found himself a girlfriend after seeing photos of his father's Facebook page. Timothy Williams wasn't close with his dad, but took it upon himself to check the Facebook page out and found a picture of his father, Pastor Tim Williams, kissing a woman, according to a news release. Timothy, who said he is a few years younger than his father, set up a date with the woman -- an assistant -- a few months later. But when he brought her to his parents' home for the first time, he found them in bed together. He asked his mother what was going on. "When I asked my mom, 'What's going on?' she said, 'We're just friends; we're a couple,'" said the younger Williams in an interview with KDKA-TV in Pittsburgh. Pastor Williams later posted the pictures to his own Facebook page and, as you can see in the photo, Timothy was thoroughly shocked. "I was astounded by it," he said, according to the station. Pastor Williams was unaware of his son's Facebook page until the photos appeared on it, KDKA reported. Timothy was asked if he'd set it up and he said yes. According to the Ohio State Highway Patrol, the pastor was taken into custody on Oct. 24 on a charge of sexual battery, KDKA reported. He is being held on a $25,000 bond. No trial date has been set. "I can't believe that he would do something like that, though, because that's something that would damage an entire family, not just that person," Timothy said. The pastor's pastor told the news station she has urged her husband to apologize to the son.
