Open access to the law and the courts has become increasingly popular amongst legal professionals, with many law firms actively encouraging and driving the acceptance of online access. Online courses and training in legal e-learning are growing in popularity, with many law firms offering similar courses on topics such as legal matters in immigration. More than ever, law firms are recognising the social benefits of having access to their services online. They are no longer simply a tool of the trade for professionals working in legal practice, but a fundamental part of the business landscape. Access to the Internet gives access to all manner of legal services, from finding a solicitor to completing legal documents. Search engines such as Google and Yahoo have made it possible for lay users to access legal information on the Internet, and so the same techniques

It's getting closer to Christmas, and that means you have some more time on your hands with nothing else to do but to relax and play some on PC games! Actually, two of those games are interesting in their own ways! Let's take a look at them:

Tom Clancy's Ghost Recon: Wildlands - Ubisoft

Here's the next entry in Ubisoft's highly popular Tom Clancy's series of military shooting games. And given its expansive setting there's no doubt that it'll be another action-packed shooter that will keep you busy for hours to come.

Set in Bolivia, Colombia, the Philippines and Perú, Ghost Recon Wildlands puts you in the shoes of an elite special forces unit - your job is to lead your team through deep, jungle-dwelling forests and rugged terrain and bring down your enemies before they ever get to experience an airborne assault.

The paper said it could be an offence to fire-bomb the local paper office, in Market Street. The Government's Department for Communities and Local Government said it was reviewing the rules. Walsall Council said it could take up to two years to change the law. The council said that unless the council agreed to an order to tear down a house, "unless it is on fire or under threat of imminent fire, nobody can order the fire service to demolish the house". Fire by-laws stipulate that no building can be demolished within 200m of a fire station. A spokesman for the trust said: "We are always trying to give our readers as much information as we can, and we are pleased to be able to inform them that such a law is in place in the Walsall area, following consultation with our news staff. "We are printing a new page in our Walsall Daily Mail on Thursday 8 April which will discuss the

Towerfall: a game of cat-and-mouse, of survival and starvation. You're a burglar that got trapped in a tower full of treasures. You can choose from 60 different characters and more than 30 unlockable costumes. As they say 'everything goes' as soon as the door opens: with you in your possession are everything you need to survive! Puzzle mini games and challenging enemies. Use your tools, traps and locks to solve the puzzles. Use your cunning and your background to survive. Use the environment to your advantage. As much action as you want. Not only will you need to fight for your life, you will also need to carefully choose the best equipment for your next mission. Play stealthily with the thief's cloak and a rag to pick the lock. Use weapons, such as the wrench or the heavy hammer, to take down your enemies. Use heavy equipment, such as the monster truck or the steam roller to destroy your enemies. Use cars, bikes or any other machines you come across to speed up your escape. Loot as much as you can before the alarm goes off and the guards come running. The possibilities are endless: the only limit is your imagination. Carry out a great heist or... leave, in a hurry, dressed as a dog. - Explore your surroundings and find items - A room, is a big object. Empty rooms contain less items. - Collect as much money as you can - You always need money. Go to a room where money is stored. Pick up everything and bring it back home. - Get out of the tower - - Need to repair your lock? Use your tools to open any locked room! - Break a lock, by choosing a tool. Use the heavy hammer to break a lock. Choose the wrench to pick locks. You can also use a lockpick to open a lock. - Just wait for someone to come inside - - Kick the door open and go in - - You might need to 'hide' - Don't you want someone to see the door open? Move the door away from the wall and hide it with the step ladder. - You have to escape: the alarm goes off! - - Where is the safest place to escape? - - Choose a weapon and start fighting! - - After opening the door, who was on the other side? - - In which direction will you escape? - - Take down
