Boris Godunov is an opera by Modest Mussorgsky (1839-1881). The work was written between 1868 and 1873 in Saint Petersburg, Russia. This is only for Mussorgsky. Oddly enough, but in Russia, this is one of the most unknown operas, despite the fact that it was written during the rise of Russian theater and at the beginning of Russian musical literature. Music, to this day, has not lost its relevance. It is often listened to, and works based on it are staged in theaters. But despite this, the opera is rarely performed in Russia. But in Europe it is often staged on theater stages. This is what I want to look into.
