According to Syrian state news agency SANA, agents at Damascus airport seized a total of 492 pieces of UK mail in a recent operation. In addition, a group of four French security agents were detained after similar operations at the Damascus international airport on February 12 and the Syrian city of Aleppo on February 13. "The Syrian government will continue to work tirelessly to protect the security of the Syrian people and its state," the report quoted a Syrian minister as saying. "Our security bodies are fully aware of the security threats to Syria, and will continue to work to detect and prevent infiltration." According to the Syrian news agency, Syrian security
